The new Mercedes E-Class Estate is a mighty fine, well-engineered piece of machinery based on the new E-Class saloon - sharing its engines, interior, drivetrain and technologies. It's not the boxy old thing it once was either. Mercedes has opted to sacrifice a few litres of luggage space for a CLS-style roofline, and the results are, i think, rather good-looking. Overall i would say it is one of the most practical, sensible and desirable large estates on the market today.

When new this particular car would of had an OTR price of nearly £44,000 due to it having the very desirable AMG Line upgrade and the added bonus of also having the Premium equipment line.

Upon inspection i think you will find this car hard to fault as it simply ticks all the boxes in relation to condition, specification and value for money, try not to miss this one.
